MEET THE LIBRARIANS

Nicole Caliguiri—joined McEntegart Hall Library in the Fall, 2015 after working as the Inter Library Loan Librarian for Callahan Library. You will see her on the reference desk Monday, Tuesday, & Thursdays 8:00AM-2:30PM. In addition to reference, Nicole will be instructing library information literacy sessions and fulfilling your ILL requests.

Terence Freedman—joined McEntegart Hall Library last summer as a part-time Evening & Weekend Librarian. He received his MLS from Queens College. Terence provides reference service, contributes to LibGuides in a variety of subjects, and instructs information literacy sessions.

Mayumi Miyaoka—has worked at McEntegart Hall Library for 5 years. She is also the College Archivist, so you can find her busy at work on the 2nd floor of McEntegart keeping the College’s documents, photos, and 3-D objects in order in the Archives. She also provides reference, instruction, and publishes LibGuides.

Lauren Kehoe—has worked at McEntegart Hall Library since 2009. In addition to being a reference librarian, Lauren is also the Associate Director, so she handles a lot of the Library’s day-to-day management. When that job is complete, she publishes LibGuides, updates the Library website, and orders books for the collection.

Raymond Solga—joined McEntegart Hall Library in February, 2017 as a part-time Evening & Weekend Librarian. He received his MLS from Queens College. Ray provides reference service, contributes to LibGuides in a variety of subjects, and instruction information literacy sessions and workshops.
BROOKLYN VOICES

Nathan Englander
Wednesday, September 6, 7:30 p.m. Presents: Dinner at the Center of the Earth in conversation with Jonathan Safran Foer
Tickets $30 (includes book)
Nathan Englander—Pulitzer Prize finalist, best-selling author of For the Relief of Unbearable Urges, and beloved Greenlight neighbor—is at the height of his powers with his new novel Dinner at the Center of the Earth. A political thriller that unfolds in the highly charged territory of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict and pivots on the complex relationship between a prisoner and his guard, the novel traces the intersecting lives of disparate characters to create a powerful, intensely suspenseful portrait of a nation riven by insoluble conflict, even as the lives of its citizens become inextricably entwined. Englander discusses his book and the intersection of fiction and world events with fellow novelist Jonathan Safran Foer (Everything is Illuminated, Extremely Loud & Incredibly Close, Here I Am) at this evening’s event.

Karl Ove Knausgaard
Thursday, September 14, 7:30 p.m. Presents: Autumn in conversation with Katie Kitamura
Tickets $30 (includes book)
Norwegian author Karl Ove Knausgaard developed a passionate following of readers for his phenomenally successful My Struggle series. This fall he introduces a stunning new autobiographical quartet, a jewel-box encyclopedia of the world that builds in poignancy and intensity as the seasons change. The first short volume in this new series, Autumn, is comprised of letters written each day to his daughter Anne, beginning before her birth. The first installment in a year-long literary event, Autumn is a marvelously accessible introduction for those not familiar with Karl Ove Knausgaard’s earlier work, and a divine pleasure for his fans. Knausgaard talks about his work and his new project with novelist Katie Kitamura, author most recently of the acclaimed novel A Separation.
Jeffrey Eugenides
Monday, October 2, 7:30 p.m. Presents the book launch: Fresh Complaint: Stories in conversation with Ruth Franklin

Tickets $30 (includes book)
Pulitzer Prize winning Jeffrey Eugenides launches his first collection of short fiction, Fresh Complaint, displaying the beautiful writing and acute observation of the crises of adolescence, self-discovery, family love, and what it means to be American that makes his best selling novels so compelling. Packed with a density of ideas despite their fluid grace, the stories range from the reproductive antics of “Baster” to the dreamy, moving account of a young traveler’s search for enlightenment in “Air Mail” (selected by Annie Proulx for Best American Short Stories), with characters including a failed poet who becomes an embezzler; a clavichordist whose dreams of art founder under the obligations of marriage and fatherhood; and, in the title story “Fresh Complaint,” a high school student whose wish to escape the strictures of her immigrant family lead her to a drastic decision that upends the life of a middle-aged British physicist. Eugenides discusses his work with book critic and biographer Ruth Franklin (author of Shirley Jackson: A Rather Haunted Life) at this launch event.

Matt Taibbi
Wednesday, November 1, 7:30 p.m. Presents: I Can’t Breathe: A Killing on Bay Street

Tickets $30 (includes book)
Rolling Stone journalist and bestselling author Matt Taibbi (called “one of the few journalists in America who speaks truth to power” by Senator Bernie Sanders) presents his newest book I Can’t Breathe, an immersive, riveting account of the infamous killing of Eric Garner on Staten Island by New York City police. In compelling and unforgettable detail, the book introduces readers to Garner and his friends, family and rivals, traces the history of gentrification and policing as it intersects with Garner’s personal narrative, and offers the inside story of the crime, the grand jury, the media circus, and the protests from every side, including the roots of the Black Lives Matter movement.
On April 10, 11, & 12, 2017, in conjunction with the College’s Centennial celebration and supported by McEntegart Hall Library/Archives, 11 honors students participated in gathering four oral histories from S. Margaret Buckley ('55), S. Mary Florence Burns ('46), S. Pat Dittmer ('72), and S. Elizabeth Hill ('64). Led by librarians Mayumi Miyaoka and Lauren Kehoe, the students engaged with the College’s Archives to develop a strong understanding of the history of the College and the Sisters of St. Joseph’s. The students also developed strong research skills using primary sources in the archive. Students discussed the theoretical implications of capturing histories orally, in addition to gaining interviewing skills. The group worked collaboratively throughout the honors concentration to understand the history of the College and Sisters and then cooperatively developed a set of questions to ask each interviewee.

Please visit the page below to view the interviews:

McEntegart Hall Library plans to continue this work in the semesters to come by reaching out to additional Sisters as well as other SJC faculty and staff on both campuses. Please contact Mayumi Miyaoka at mmiyaoka@sjcny.edu or Lauren Kehoe at lkehoe@sjcny.edu for more information.
SJC ONLINE LIBRARY WEB PAGE

SJC Online offers 20 undergraduate, graduate, and certificate programs. The Library has created an “online library” to complement these new programs.

It can be accessed here:  http://www.sjcny.edu/online/library

CANVAS

The College has fully integrated the Canvas LMS and Blackboard is no longer supported. Check out ITS’s page at movetocanvas.sjcny.edu for more information.

For any questions regarding Canvas contact the: ITS department at techhelp@sjcny.edu / x8324 or Linda Anzalone (SJC Instructional Designer) at lanzalone@sjcny.edu / x1249

CHAT WITH A LIBRARIAN

SJC Libraries offers chat services during all open hours. You can find the chat box on all pages of the library’s website and LibGuides. SJC librarians will be available to answer any and all questions you may have at your point of need!
3D PRINTER

A 3D Printer has been installed in the Library. If any faculty member is interested in using the 3D Printer for course work, please contact the library.

SCANNX BOOK SCANNER

The Scannx Book Scan Center is an integrated scanning system with touch screen monitor to guide you through the scanning process. The system includes an 11”x17” beveled edge book scanner that permits you to scan a book right into the binding edge without breaking the spine. Scannx can scan documents in many file formats, including PDF, Word Docs, Jpegs and Tiffs, right to your email or smartphone.

Visit the copier area on the first floor of the Reading Room to try the scanner yourself!
EMBED A LIBRARIAN

Librarian services go beyond the Reference Desk and the classroom. In Canvas, Teaching Assistant privileges may be given to anyone you would like to participate in the web component of your class. By enabling this feature for librarians, they can tailor your course’s shell in the following ways:

- Adding helpful library links, including LibGuides and eReserves
- Recommending related reading
- Assignment/Citation help
- Participating in forums

All of this, and more, at your direction!

To learn more about the embedded librarian service, please contact mcentegart@sjcny.edu, x5880.

NOODLETOOLS CITATION GENERATOR

St. Joseph’s College Libraries provide access to the citation generator NoodleTools via the library’s website. It is now integrated with your SJC Network ID & PW. With NoodleTools, you can:

- Format your bibliography in APA, MLA, and Chicago styles
- Export your formatted bibliography to a Word document
- Organize and manage all of your sources by assignment or course
- Save the document URLs for quick retrieval of the articles
- Edit your bibliography and store it online for easy access

The brochure “Quick Guide to NoodleTools” is available in the Library and APA tutorials are available through Panopto (See right). You can also request a library instruction session covering citation styles, plagiarism, NoodleTools and similar topics, or attend a library workshop.
APA style video tutorials are available on Canvas for use in your course! Tutorials cover topics such as:

- How to create a title page in APA
- How to cite a book/ebook in APA
- How to cite an article in APA
- How to cite a blog/video/image in APA

To access the videos, please visit http://tinyurl.com/h3qx85g and: http://sjcny.libguides.com/online/library/researchhelp

Want to insert a video into the Course Material page of your Blackboard course? Follow the instructions below.

1. Open Course Materials in your Blackboard course page
2. Under Tools, click Panopto Video Links
3. Add Course to Panopto
4. Click OK to Add Course to Panopto (Provisioning Results)
5. Select “APA Style Tutorials” from Available Folders on the left, and click ADD. The folder will be added to Selected Folder on the right. Click SUBMIT.
6. Select a folder “APA Style Tutorials” from the pull down menu, and select a video that you would like to insert into your Course Materials page.

Returning Panopto users may skip steps 1 through 5.

If you have any questions and also want to learn how to use these in Canvas, please contact Mayumi Miyaoka at mmiyaoka@sjcny.edu, x5883.
PRINTING MANAGEMENT UPDATE

The ITS department has entered the next phase of printing management called “Follow Me Printing”. Student printers on campus will have a release station attached, so that students can retrieve their jobs at any printer on campus. This also allows students to now print from their own devices. For more information, contact the ITS department.

The student quota of $40/semester will remain in place. Balances can be looked up at:

https://print.sjcny.edu/

Students and alumni can visit the library to buy additional credits ($5 or $10, cash only).

WINDOWS 10 SOFTWARE UPDATES

ITS has updated all laboratory computers on campus, including the Library’s Pods & LITC stations, with the newest Windows 10 operating system. The Faculty Center for Teaching and Learning is also equipped with the newest version of Windows. Staff and faculty office computers should be updated during the next round of ITS rollouts.
St. Joseph's College has partnered with Microsoft to offer our Students and Faculty a FREE way to download the Microsoft Office applications. This program allows our users to download up to 5 licensed copies of Microsoft Office 2013 (for Windows computers) or Office 2016 (for Mac computers) to install and use on your personal devices. For more information on how to get your free copy of Office, visit ITS’ Portal Page.

Microsoft Home Use Program (For Staff) Microsoft still has the Home Use Program available to staff to purchase Office 2016 at a minimal cost of $9.95 plus tax. For more information on how to purchase Office, visit ITS’ Portal Page.

RESEARCH TIPS

Google Scholar
Google Scholar provides a search of scholarly literature across many disciplines and sources, including theses, books, abstracts, and articles. Many full-text resources are available.
Set St. Joseph’s library as your home institution and refine your searches. To customize the site go to scholar.google.com, select Settings, Library Links (left), and search “St. Joseph’s College, NY.” Select the institution and click Save.
Now you’re ready for Google-powered database searching!
TDF MEMBERSHIP (TKTS)

Did you know full time faculty members are eligible to enroll in TDF's membership program to get discounted theater, dance & performance tickets? Find out more at https://www.tdf.org/nyc/24/Eligibility-Requirements

PURCHASE REQUESTS

Twice a semester, the library compiles a “Suggested Titles List” consisting of favorably reviewed books and distributes it electronically to department chairpersons and McEntegart Library’s blog. We encourage faculty to review these and select items for purchase.

If any faculty member is interested in making a purchase request, please complete an online request at tinyurl.com/l66ztnv

Have questions? You may contact Lauren Kehoe at lkehoe@sjcny.edu, x5877.
"Many assume that because young people are fluent in social media they are equally savvy about what they find there...Our work shows the opposite." - NPR

“Librarians are natural allies for educators in helping students become critical news consumers.” - NPR

Library instruction sessions can help combat Fake News!

Sessions can be tailored to specific disciplines or assignments. To schedule instruction, please contact mcentegart@sjcny.edu, x5880 or fill out this form online.

Interesting Reads

The Citation Help Desk will be available at the Reference Desk of McEntegart Hall during mid-term (Monday 10/16—Sunday 10/29) and at the end of the term (Monday 12/4—Sunday 12/17).

A librarian will review your students’ APA, MLA, and Chicago style citations on the spot! Please tell your students to keep an eye out for the librarians!

For more details, call x5880, or look out for a flyer!

E-RESERVES

Items from the library collection, personal copies, or scanned selections (with citation noted), may be placed on reserve in the electronic reserves system. Please submit a request at least FOUR weeks before the class begins (longer if the library must first acquire the material). Material will remain on reserve for the semester and will be returned to the shelves or faculty member once the course has ended.

Textbooks - The library has acquired many course textbooks over the years, and yours may be available. For newer editions, the library considers purchasing the book (or A/V material) on a case-by-case basis. Alternatively, we accept donations of desk copies, or you can temporarily lend the library your copy for the semester.

DVDs - The Library has a growing Audio/Visual collection, but if there is a particular item you would like to see added, please contact us.

Please note: According to US Copyright Law, the library cannot photocopy and circulate more than 10% of an entire work. If a faculty member is interested in updating or creating a course reserves page, please contact Lauren Kehoe at lkehoe@sjcny.edu, x5877.
The Library will be holding several student and faculty workshops this semester. All workshops are drop-in and do not require prior sign-up. Notices will be posted about topics, days, and times. Please let the library know if you have any workshops you would like to see offered.

Invite a Librarian To Your Classroom: Don’t have enough time to visit the Library? Still want students to use the library resources available to them? Invite a librarian to your class for 15-20 minute mini sessions covering one or two specific library resources available for your class.

Research Assignment Open Lab: Librarians will be on hand in the Library Monday 12/4—Tuesday 12/12 to work one-on-one with students on their research assignments. Encourage them to visit with any questions they may have!

REQUESTING INSTRUCTION

Librarian instruction sessions can help with:

- Catalog and database searching
- Formulating thesis statements
- Research strategy development
- Proper citation (MLA, APA, Chicago, etc.)
- Plagiarism
- Evaluating sources
- LibGuides

Sessions can be tailored to specific disciplines or assignments. To schedule instruction, please contact mcantegart@sjcny.edu, x5880 or fill out the form http://www.sjcny.edu/libraries/mcantegart-library-instruction-request
